by his sister-in-law, has been passed by the Governor. The case excited the deepest interest; the position and relationship of the parties, the nature of the crime, the persistent denials of guilt and peculiar character of defense, the ability and eloquence of the counsel engaged, and the severity of the verdict, gave great interest to the case, which was finally decided by the Court of Appeals. A few nights before Mr. Champ was to have been carried to the penitentiary, he was

NEW PAPER.—James M. Paxon, a very experienced printer, and a writer of force and spirit, intends, on the 1st of the month of September, commencing the publication of a weekly paper at Winchester, to be styled the Clarke County Democrat. We can vouch for Mr. P.'s ability, and hope that the wealthy people of his section of the State will not only support but support liberally, his enterprise. The number of county papers in Kentucky is lamentably small. There is room for half hundred more, and the people should willingly sustain them. They contribute, in a thousand ways, directly and indirectly, to the advancement of the communities among whom they are published.

A Greater than Dexter—The Trotting Prodigy that the Czar Brought to Paris—A Stallion Makes 2:23 Without Training

A few weeks since it was stated in several of the journals of this country that a great trotting phenomenon had just been brought out at Paris. The statement gave the time of the horse at 2:22, which was said to have been made without any previous training. The report was not believed on this side of the water, and performance had been made. From the gentleman who has just returned from Paris, where he witnessed the trial, it is his opinion that the trial was a veritable veracity, and that the following:

On the visit of the Czar to Paris, he brought with him, among other objects of interest, a stallion, which was a natural trotter, and which, never having been trained, had developed an extraordinary degree of speed. This was the horse Bedouin, an animal of Arabian blood crossed with Holland stock. He was

When the Czar went to Paris he took the stallion with him. In June last trial was made of the speed of the horse in the Bois de Boulogne, in the presence of a large gathering of English and American gentlemen, patrons of the turf. The track was a rounded rectangle, much the shape and size of one of our ordinary half-mile courses. His heavy Russian girth, weighing a hundred and twenty pounds, the groom of the stallion, a

The effort was at once made by a number of our Americans to purchase the horse, and Elias Howe, Jr., offered $250,000 for him. The stallion had been trotted a mile and seven-eighths at the rate of 2:23 1/2 the mile.

Redouin is eleven years old, his hands three inches in height, and weighs at the time of the above trial 1,130 pounds. He had a beautiful head, limbs clean and strong, with a tail sweeping on the ground. It was thought that, in good condition, the stallion could trot a mile in 2:11 at least.
